

The Hosanna Community News

January 22, 2018

Vol.8, Issue 11

Katie: kwalters.hosanna@comcast.net Susan: srdistefano@comcast.net Tania: tbarry.hosanna@comcast.net

WEEKLY ACTIVITIES

Monday, January 22, We're having a birthday party for our very own Molly Miles! All residents are invited to a community dinner at Hope House to celebrate with Molly.

Tuesday, January 23, Stuart Heights Baptist Church joins Faith House for dinner.

Friday, January 26, Ed Colucci brings his Italian cooking skills to Hope House for dinner.

Saturday, January 27, weekly morning shopping trip for those who have a need.

The Chattanooga Flute Choir performed before a full house at the North River Civic Center recently and residents were in attendance to enjoy the music. Afterwards, a detour was made to McDonald's for a late night ice cream treat!

Today, my intent is to be quick and crystal clear. Let me ask you this: How do you remember things? Some write notes, leave messages o phones for payback, and many try to repeat things over and over in their minds. Even if it's inconvenient, or may be an annoying interruption, you must do the right thing when trying to recall important matters. With that stated, I have a scripture verse I hope for you to remember. Although it's not a common verse that has been repeated frequently I find it to be very valuable. I Corinthians 10:31 states: Therefore, whether you eat or drink or whatever you do do everything for God's glory.
ECR

Connor's Corner

HAPPY NEW YEAR!

Residents celebrated the new year in style at Faith House. A festive meal prepared by Susan was accompanied by lots of merriment. I heard some even managed to stay up until the ball dropped! Here's wishing that 2018 will be filled with as much fun and fellowship as it began!

