Today, my dear readers, I do hope all is and remains well in your world. In an effort to reiterate my on-going theme of remaining positive and happy, I have a suggestion for everyone. I am asking each reader to realize the following: No, every day is not good, but there is something good that can be taken from every day. I think we all agree that much of life is an attitude. Remember what philosopher Jim Rorn has written: Sharing makes you bigger than you are... The more you pour out, the more life will be able to pour in... When somebody shares, everybody wins. Only by giving are you able to receive more than you already have. So, let's all feel that positively giving will return to you multiplied at some point in the future. That's a nice investment, now isn't it? Keep it positive and good things will follow.

Don't forget to let us know whether you will be here for dinner and/or overnight on Thanksgiving!!

The weather was great last week for our outside work day. We swept, weeded, cleared out and cleaned up. And we'll do it again this Wednesday! As always, residents are more than welcome to help us out!!

We all know what a great baker Faye is, but it looks like she's about to have some competition! Above, Stacy shows off her first apple pie.

Susan holds up the wreath made by the residents with Brooke from the Hart Gallery. Inside each heart, sewn shut by the resident, is a piece of paper inscribed with something the resident is thankful for or that fills his/her heart. It hangs at Hope House, where it is a daily reminder of all we should be thankful for each and every day!
