Connor's Corner Today's lesson will hopefully bring you some comfort. I may not know the details of your personal story; whether it involves pain, suffering, tragedy, the loss of loved ones, or if it is a story of overcoming all that, but I can admit this: If you have any connection to the Hosanna Community, you remain in my prayers for positive help from the Lord.

I understand that not even the passage of time can take away the mental and physical pain away from wounds that are hard to heal. However, let me give you one biblical verse to help you feel relief, for God is the true comforter of all.

Psalm 119:50 reads: My comfort in my suffering is this: Your promise preserves my life.

God's promises do bring hope and comfort. Let's be grateful. ECR.

Residents enjoy a little piece of New York at NY Pizza Department for lunch. It was delicious! Much to our surprise there was an arcade in the back, which several residents made use of. Good times!
