

WEEKLY ACTIVITIES

Sunday, September 9, Happy Grandparents Day!

Monday, September 10, Solo Ladies at Hope House. 6pm.

Wednesday, September 12, Wizard of Oz night!! Prepare for food, trivia, and of course the classic story!

Connor's Corner My Hosanna friends, feel free to brace yourselves. Seriously, it is already September. Football season for high school, college, and pros has already begun. I don't think you have forgotten that down south college ball is revered almost like a religion. We are just 18 days away from the start of Autumn, and I foresee some unusually cold temperatures on the horizon. Regardless of what Mother Nature has in store for us, it is my hope that through the oncoming change, we can try to put aside our emotional, intellectual, personal, and physical hardships in an attempt to improve our outlook on life. We need to build more confidence in our dreams, increase our attraction and attention to finding happiness daily, and above all let us be thankful for the miracle of life. I don't feel comfortable stressing a belief you gain nothing from, so I leave you with this, "Lifestyle is not an amount, it's a practice." ECR

Residents using all their creativity to make these beautiful nautical decorations for Hosanna's annual Harvest Celebration. You are invited to see more of our lovely art September 20, 5:30 pm, at the Privateer Yacht Club. See you there!

Words to Ponder: Aging is an extraordinary process where you become the person you always should have been. –David