With Halloween behind us, the far too overlooked Thanksgiving holiday approaches before the gift-giving hoopla of Christmas rolls in. I'd like to offer some well deserved thanks to residents, staff, and supporters of Hosanna community for 17 years of hope in helping me obtain and sustain a healthy and productive life. I've seen a lot of change in 17 years and Susan and Katie are both committed to fulfilling a mission of helping all members of our community find personal happiness by helping us gain mental and physical confidence with independence. I'm truly grateful to be a resident who continues to grow strong in approving of positive goal setting while sharing true care in a kind, giving setting. I can't realistically return enough thanks to my mentors and friends, but I feel it is appropriate to be seen walking our property with a broom and rake in hand. This is our home: it deserves special attention and care, and my actions of thanks are meant to show that. What about YOU?

WEEKLY ACTIVITIES

Tuesday, Nov. 6, crafts at 3:00 with Megan and Susan.

Thursday, Nov. 8, we're off to hear some music at the Soddy Daisy Jamboree after dinner.

Friday, Nov. 9, Fun Friday! We'll start with a short walk along the Riverwalk and then return home for lunch. We leave at 11:00.

What a great Halloween party we had! Residents helped get in the spirit by carving jack-o'-lanterns. After some creepy yet yummy food, we enjoyed a bonfire!
