Sunday, June 21HAPPY FATHER'S DAY!!

I have been directed by preachers, priests and many Biblical scholars on the importance of keeping a strong and trusting relationship with the Lord. With a desire to take steps to assure this, my search is thankfully over. Thanks to a sermon presented by Jensen Franklin, a Gainesville, GA, non-denominational preacher, I can share how we all can appreciate God's consistent love. Jensen asked the eldest man in the church to end the service with a homily and prayer. His response is a blessing to all. The man first asked everyone to give thanks to the Lord for His blessings. He then explained how the Lord was exactly like his barn. They both had faced years of wear and tear, but stayed strong. Why? When he noticed his barn was leaning and ready to fall, ruining years of care, he decided to give his barn strong support. Like the Lord, all giving when given care, his barn and our souls don't need total reconstruction. We need support. The Lord doesn't require us to give Him praise and thanks. When you give help when /where needed, you are always blessed in return. Amen!
