

WEEKLY ACTIVITIES

Mon., Aug. 31: 10:00 a.m., Low Impact Exercise
2:00 p.m., Art with Mary

Tues., Sept. 1: 10:00 a.m., Yoga and Stretching
2:00 p.m., Mail-a-Hug Project
HAPPY BIRTHDAY, ROGERS!

Wed., Sept. 2: 10:00 a.m., Weight Lifting

Cash in your Chik-Fil-A Gift Cards for Lunch (or $$$ on you!)

2:00 p.m., Stained Glass Sidewalk Chalk Art

Thur., Sept. 3: 10:00 a.m., Chair Yoga
2:00 p.m., Cooking class with Beth!

Fri., Sept. 4: 10:00 a.m., Jazzercise
2:00 p.m., Pictionary and Domino Challenge

Fire Art!

So Hot, It's Cool!!

Rubbing alcohol +
colored inks + fire =
a great art experience

While reading a past issue of Connor's Corner "House Beautiful" magazine, I was struck by the powerful advertisements used to solicit attention. Isn't it interesting how companies use hidden subliminal messages to hook you on their products. Here's a few convincing examples: The company, Perigold, an online retailer of brand name products, has a unique way of saying, "You can't do it any easier," by placing pictures of art, flowers and an elegant chair with the caption, "Find your seat. Without getting up. Shop thousands of premium home furnishings ... all online. Perigold.com"

Kravit, a home furnishing company, is direct and strong, as their ad convincingly shows:

K100
kravit YEARS
ONE FAMILY. ONE PASSION. ONE CENTURY.

I found five other good examples of ads asking me to admire patterns and colors of updated lifestyle choices, from kitchenware to unique upholstery. Of them, I chose: "Stickley since 1900," with an ad featuring a sectional sofa with 10 pillows alongside a wooden island with three stools and two lamps. All of this sits on elegant hardwood floors. The ad states: "Fine furniture for the way we live today. Handmade in America since 1900." The implication is that for over a century, the more things change, the more they stay the same. We still give you quality furniture. It sells me. How about you?

Get Ready for Nov. 3, Election Day!

See a staff member for help with any of the following:

REGISTER to vote by October 5

Request ABSENTEE BALLOTS NOW!

MAIL BALLOTS before October 27

Skeet Ball: A little bit of skill. A little bit of luck.

Lots of fun especially if prizes are included!