

Happy Holidays at Hosanna Community!

Connor's Corner

As we are ending our recognition and thanks of Jesus' birth in a humble stable, His coming into the world, as promised, should reiterate the hope for true salvation. In fact, Christmas togetherness, which involves remaining, merry, delighted with church and family traditions, and thinking about the coming of Christ in the new world, deserves more than one day of recognition and thanks.

So with the coming of a New Year, it's not my hope or suggestion that you make a list of resolutions that you probably will not keep. Instead, I suggest you spend the new year being thankful that God sent his Son to be a human who spent His life feasting with us, healing the needy, loving all mankind, praying for all, with consistent thanks for His abilities and blessings, which assuring us that God remains with those who struggle. After all, the gift of forgiveness and eternal life to those who believe in Him is a good way to end the year and to look to the future.

I do wish you a happy and blessed new year.
