Today, fellow friends and Hosanna residents, I want us all to give some thought behind the popular Biblical phrase that we all likely can recite: "It is more blessed to give than receive." I ask you to think about the verse on these terms: Sure, generosity does benefit the recipient, but more importantly and impressively, it engages and enriches the giver. The result is that as we all try to actively live out the heavenly spirit, including generosity and love in our lives, it becomes evident that we are truly more caring, compassionate, and also more human, as we realize the need to recognize the Lord for helping guide us down a path of giving, as He has given us. So, from now on, let's stop being cynical and almost sacrilegious. Let's remain thankful, and try to give a little more.
