

WEEKLY ACTIVITIES

- Mon., June 27: 10:00 a.m. - Tai Chi
2:00 p.m. - Gospel Karaoke
- Tues. June 28: 10:00 a.m. - Mall Walking, a Meal & a Movie
(The movie: "Lightyear." Bring $10 for lunch & movie snacks.)
- Wed., June 29: 10:00 a.m. - Chair Yoga
2:00 p.m. - Art with Mary
- Thurs., June 30: 10:00 a.m. - Low Impact Exercise
2:00 p.m. - Cooking with Beth at Faith House
- Friday, July 1: 10:00 a.m. - Walk-a-Mile
2:00 p.m. - Surprise Activity!!!

We have a pumpkin patch!!

Thanks to some stray seeds left from our pumpkin display last year, we have pumpkins sprouting! We'll have our own pumpkin patch later this year. Calling Charlie Brown!

Making zucchini bread with our own veggies

Looking good in Chair Yoga tee shirts. Keep up the good work!

Mango vs. Pineapple vs. Mango-Pineapple. Sorbet taste-off: Mango won out

I want you to think about this: When we share devotion to God, what happens? Don't the most amazing things begin to occur? Let me remind you: God absolutely has the power and is fully capable of helping protect us all from everything. Understand, He leaves the decision up to us. We make the ultimate choice: Am I devoted to Him, or can I rely on myself?

Connor's Corner

Here lies a a very difficult situation: He is our Redeemer and only source of shelter to rely on. Grace and Love are already yours, and if we pray for others we are directing them to protection only God can give. We all are the body of God and faith regulates God's presence, along with our ability to help others believe.

Isn't it quite comforting to know that God doesn't want you to feel wonderful because you've been taken out of danger or harm's way. He wants you completely satisfied with His promise, proven with Jesus' sacrifice for us, of eternal salvation. As a result, I urge us all to always accept His offer of protection. Remember devotion requires trust. Trust Him fully. And you will be well served.

The good old USA: Red, white & blue star door wreaths

