Think about it: Eventually you become just like the people with whom you associate and spend the most time. Also realize: We all have the ability, daily, to choose our attitude and the type person we wish to be. Obviously, there are many advantages to this blessing. If we remain thankful to Him, He will assist in helping us to take care of each other by loving one another as He loved us. We can, thanks to Him, choose to be around people who are consistently kind, truthful, wise and full of heavenly grace.
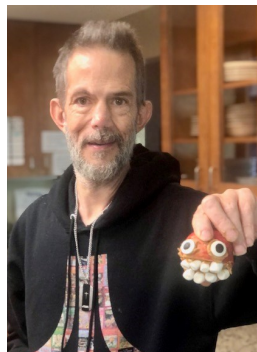

Most importantly, our choice of those with whom we wish to relate needs to be those who always look for and appreciate the very best in others. Proverbs 13:20 provides a great truth to the subject of defining who you are. It reads:

"Walk with the wise and become wise."
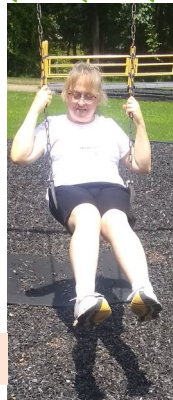

Picnic fun at Vandergriff Park

Thank You, Theresa and Al Trantham (Keller's mom & stepdad), for the canned goods donation to Hosanna Community!

We appreciate your thoughtfulness.

Speedy recovery from ankle surgery, Theresa!

Is it a monster? A man-eating fish? An alien?? No!!! It's a Billy Bob Apple: Just a carved-out apple with a mouth full of peanut butter, marshmallow teeth & candy eyes. Creepy, yummy & healthy!

"August is Like the Sunday of Summer."

It's okay to look a little silly for your birthday! Thank you for the surprise birthday lunch, Hosanna peeps! Mary L.
